We are sorry to announce that the Maryland Horse World Expo scheduled for January 19-21, 2018, at the Maryland State Fairgrounds, Timonium, Maryland, has been cancelled for 2018 and beyond. We want to thank the tens of thousands of attendees, the thousands of exhibitors, the many sponsors, seminar speakers and others who made this event possible for the past 21 years. The reason for canceling is the decline in attendance over the years resulting in less exhibitor participation than expected for 2018.

The good news is that we can direct our full attention to the 16th Annual Pennsylvania Horse World Expo, March 1-4, 2018, at the PA Farm Show Complex and Exhibit Center in Harrisburg, PA (approximately 1 hour drive time from the Timonium Fairgrounds). The PA event, which will now be known as "Horse World Expo", is much larger than MD, with 500+ exhibitor booths, expanded training programs in two large arenas (one seating 7,000 and the other 3,000), plus many other attractions and learning venues for horse enthusiasts of all ages, breeds and disciplines. Please see our website (www.horseworldexpo.com) for complete details.

Thank you again for your support; we hope to see you in Harrisburg!
